

Faculty Scholarship

Applications are invited for up to three Scholarships being offered by the Faculty of Education to study for a PhD in the following areas of research:

- Creativity, Culture and Education
- Religion, Faith and Education
- Lifelong Learning
- Adult Education
- Education, Social Inclusion and Global Justice.
- Science Education, New Technologies and Learning.
- Pedagogy, Policy and Practice.
- Teacher Education.
- Leadership and Learning in the Professions]
- Higher Education Studies

The scholarship will provide an annual stipend of £12,600 per annum with fees paid at the Home/EU rate. Fees-only scholarships may be considered. The Scholarship will run for three years commencing on 22 September 2009.

How to apply

Applications should be made using the University on-line application procedure and should clearly state that you are applying for the Faculty of Education Scholarship and which area of research you are applying for.

<http://www.gla.ac.uk/postgraduate/howtoapplyforaresearchdegree/applyonline/>

You can also identify a member of staff to supervise your studies although this is not guaranteed. Details of staff research interests and research projects can be found on the Faculty research webpage <http://www.gla.ac.uk/faculties/education/research/>

Please submit the following documents with your application:

Information about your previous study (copies of your degree certificates and transcripts of your undergraduate or previous degrees);

Two supporting reference letters;

Research proposal;

Applicants whose first language (or the language of instruction for their first degree) is not English are required to include evidence of their English Language ability, this should be a minimum IELTS score of 6.5;

Please also submit a one page document to Myrtle Porch m.porch@educ.gla.ac.uk explaining how your studies will contribute to the research being conducted in your chosen area.

The closing date for applications is 30 April 2009