Brexit Seminar Series 2018, No 3

Tom Gerald Daly
Melbourne University Law School

Sophie Di Francesco-Mayot
RMIT University

The EU Centre at RMIT is pleased to invite you to this public presentation on the prospects of Brexit from European perspectives.

SPEAKERS

Dr Tom Gerald Daly is MLS Fellow at Melbourne Law School and Associate Director of the Edinburgh Centre for Constitutional Law at Edinburgh Law School.

Tom's research focuses on the connections between law, policy and democratic governance. Tom will discuss prospects of Brexit from a European perspective, drawing on his position as an Irish citizen, former UK resident, and background in comparative and international law and policy.

Dr Sophie Di Francesco-Mayot is Research Officer at the RMIT EU Centre.

Sophie's research focuses on European integration, EU institutions and policies, inter-regionalism (EU, ASEM, ASEAN) and French politics. Her current research concerns the issue of Brexit and the implications it will have for the EU, the UK and Australia. Sophie will discuss prospects of Brexit from a European perspective drawing on European media.
