PASCAL Learning Cities Network - Inclusion Workshop
Seniors as Lifelong Learners: barriers, strategies, outcomes
RMIT University 30 November 2015

Venue: Seminar Rooms 1 & 2, Storey Hall, RMIT City Campus, Building 16, Level 7, 336-348 Swanston Street, Melbourne

Agenda

9.00   1. Introduction: Peter Kearns, Director PASCAL Learning City Networks

9.15   2. The key issues and current good practice
          Panel: Professor Philip Taylor, Director of Research, National Seniors Australia
          Karyn Siegmann, Manager Libraries, Family & Cultural Services, Bayside City Council
          Professor Barry Golding, Federation University

10.15   3. What can Learning Communities and Cities contribute?
          Panel: Peter Blunden, Melton Learning Community
          Marea Ekladious, Hume Global Learning Village
          Christine Mc Allister, Brimbank Learning Community

11.15   Morning tea

11.30   4.   What is missing?
          Panel: Dr Helen Kimberley, Brotherhood of St Lawrence
          Stephen Dunn, Adult Learning Australia
          Professor Michael Osborne, University of Glasgow

12.30   Lunch

2.00   5.   Where to from here?
          Group discussion
          Group reports and discussion
          Summing up of workshop by rapporteur, Professor Chris Duke
          Report for PASCAL Networks website, Dr Denise Reghenzani-Kearns

3.30   6. Report on international developments in Learning Cities
          Professor Michael Osborne, Director PASCAL Europe
          Peter Blunden, Melton Learning City
                    Report to cover Mexico City International Conference, Inauguration of UNESCO Global Network of Learning Cities, PASCAL Learning City
                    Networks, planning for PASCAL International Conference, University of Glasgow June 2016